COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 16.

BUSINESS is considerably interfered with by the delay in telegraphic communication with home, the bulk of yesterday's private messages having only come to hand after business hours to-day. Such a breakdown in the cable during the height of the season would be a serious matter, and even now it is attended by considerable inconvenience, as it just so happens that there is more doing than is usually the case at this time of year. Consols in London yesterday were ¼ higher at 101⅜, French Rentes unchanged at 120. The 3½ per cent. Indian Sterling Loan remains at 103⅜, but Enfaced Rupee Paper is higher again, Fours by ¼, Fours-and-a-half by ¼, at 86½ and 92 respectively.

In General Produce Coffee and Cocoanut-Oil are unaltered. Linseed is quieter and slightly lower in Calcutta (to arrive). Other Seeds and Wheat show no change. Wallaras Copper comes 10s. per ton lower at £87-10.

The Manchester Piece-goods market continues firm, but prices are all the same as quoted on Tuesday last. Cotton in Liverpool yesterday was again strong for Americans, firm for Surats, the day's sales being 12,000 bales. Prices of Americans show an advance of 1-16d. in Mid-Uplands on the spot, and 3-32d. in July-August delivery, whilst Surats continue unchanged; in fact, such improvement as there has been lately is evidently owing to the probability of another September corner for tenderable Americans. The quotations for futures point very decidedly to this, and another prominent feature is that the rise originates in Liverpool, not in America, showing that the movement is not owing to unfavourable crop reports. On Thursday prices in New York rose to 11 11-16 cents. for ready Mid-Uplands, and 10·60 for October shipment; but yesterday's quotations show a decline to 11 9-16 and 10·48 cents. per lb. respectively.

We subjoin our usual comparison of the weekly figures. Since last Friday the reduction in the total visible supply has been 80,000 bales, and in the Liverpool stock 12,000 bales; but the former still stands 385,000, and the latter 110,000 bales over the corresponding period last year. With such supplies, and the prospect of enormous crops everywhere during the coming season, the possibility of a permanent rise in Cotton is somewhat remote.

The American Crop figures to date show the following comparisons with the two previous seasons:—

	1881.	1880.	1879.

EXCHANGE:—The market opened quiet this morning at yesterday's closing quotations, but during the day the banks advanced their selling rates 1-32d., although still keeping out as buyers at previous figures, with the exception of franc paper, for which an advance of ⅛ centimes is quoted. The decline in the Paris rate on London, however, to 25·25 fcs. per £, as advised in Reuter's message of yesterday, will probably lead to this difference being equalised again on Monday. Closing quotations are:—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7 19-32d.	per rupee.
Do. telegraphic	1s. 7 9-16d.	"
Do. 3 months' sight	1s. 7 11-16d.	"
Credits, 3 " "	1s. 7 13-16d.	"
Documents, 3 " "	1s. 7 27-32d.	"
Francs, 3 " "	2·09½	"

On Calcutta we quote demand drafts at 1-16d. per cent. premium, 60 days' sight at ⅛ per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER continues remarkably strong, and a large business has been done during the day at fluctuating prices. At one time an advance of nearly ¼ per cent. was established, but at the close the feeling has become quieter again at Rs. 105¼ for Fours, and Rs. 113 for Fours-and-a-half.

SHARES continue pretty steady in value, and a large speculative business is going on. Bank of Bombays have receded to Rs. 776½. In Land Companies there is no change. Press Companies fluctuate slightly. There is a rise of Rs. 2½ in Apollo, Rs. 10 in Albert, Berar, and Prince of Wales, whilst Colaba are Rs. 25 lower. Spinning and Weaving Mill shares keep very active, and with a few exceptions are generally Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 per share higher.

COTTON has been decidedly firmer to-day with a considerable demand for export at an advance of Re. 1 to Rs. 2 per candy. In all, purchases to the extent of about 1,000 bales have been made to-day by European firms, mostly of what is called F.G.F. Faizpore at Rs. 170 per candy.

SEEDS and WHEAT remain practically the same.

FREIGHTS are firm, and 40s. per ton is now the quotation for Liverpool by steam. There is some enquiry for tonnage for late loading, but there is nothing offering.

PIECE-GOODS keep quiet but pretty steady at former values; ready transactions are small, and to arrive business is practically suspended owing to the high rates ruling in Manchester.

COALS continue very dull, and there is nothing whatever doing to arrive.

The Bombay Gazette

MONDAY, JULY 18, 1881.

IT is stated that a meeting of a "few" of the leading citizens of Bombay has been held "to consider what steps should be taken to sympathise with and alleviate the misery caused to the Vaishnav community by the punishment of imprisonment recently awarded to one of their Maharajs." And it is further stated that the outcome of the meeting was a resolution to draw up and present a petition to Government praying that the punishment recently awarded to the Maharaj may be "commuted." Among the "few" leading citizens, we notice with considerable astonishment the names of an English member of the Legislative Council, the Chairman and late Chairman of our Municipal Corporation, and the Sheriff of Bombay. The others are for the most part, we think, "well-to-do"—as they are called—members of the Vaishnav community, who could have been got of course in any numbers. But with regard to each of the leading citizens not belonging to the Vaishnav community may we not ask—will not their friends ask—qu'allait-il faire dans cette galère, what brought him there?

We would fain hope that there has been some mistake in the statements we have referred to, (though we notice that they are repeated in the Rast Goftar), or at least that the petition to which these gentlemen would appear to be consenting parties will be found, when it is published, to be less objectionable than it must, to our mind, be, if it follows the line taken on this subject by the Vaishnavs themselves. For it is necessary to make distinctions here. We are all in a way sorry for the Vaishnavs. We suppose there is no city in the world where there is so much good feeling and active sympathy between men of different race and different creeds as in Bombay. And the Vaishnav community has not, as far as we are aware, done anything to forfeit the kindly sympathy which would be extended to any other community in our midst who are living—as all happily are—on terms of peace and goodwill towards all the rest. Nor can there be any doubt that the Vaishnav community are suffering distress which is all the more keen as it was utterly unexpected. But sympathy should not get the better of prudence. And anything more imprudent or injudicious than for the leading men—we are glad they are few, but we have no wish to deny that they are prominent citizens—of other communities to take any part in putting forward the preposterous claim of the Vaishnavs that their Maharajs should be above the law, we cannot conceive.

The sentiment which is at the bottom of the agitation is, as far as the Vaishnavs are concerned, a perfectly intelligible one. We will say more. Men are much alike everywhere, and a sentiment—or something very like it—which we reprobate in the Vallabhacharyan is by no means altogether foreign to the British breast. If the Prince of Wales were to take to picking pockets, we think it probable that intelligent British juries would be found to bring it in kleptomania as often as there was occasion. And we do not forget that a section of English society, in a recent cause célèbre marvelled at the indifference shown to the social position and military prowess of the soldier who had to leave the Army for conduct "reflecting in no way on his character as a gentleman." The imprisoned Maharaj stands to his own community in as high a position as Valentine Baker, or even the Prince of Wales; and we should not be disposed to quarrel with Government if they find it possible, without frustrating the ends of justice, to grant the Maharaj some little indulgence corresponding to "first-class" treatment, as it is called, in our prisons at home. We are not sorry to hear that Government have directed that two rooms should be set apart for him, and that his personal decorations may be restored to him. But we shall have grave reason to complain of the action of these leading citizens if it shall prove that their sympathy has gone further than this, and that they have joined the Vaishnavs in soliciting Government practically to quash the conviction on the mere ground of the Maharaj's sacred character. That the Vaishnavs should put forward such a claim is perhaps excusable. They want to get their Maharaj out of prison, and unfortunately there seems to be no other way of doing it. But that leading citizens of other communities should attempt to soothe them by taking part in what they must know is an attempt as discreditable as it is hopeless, would be much to be regretted.

There is one aspect of this affair which will not, we hope, escape notice. Government are, as far as we can judge, to be spared the additional embarrassment which would be caused them if there were any serious grounds for believing that the Maharaj did not steal the pearls. If Government were constrained to take a different view of the Maharaj's offence from that which commended itself to Mr. Aston, they would be in a very pretty fix. In the Kohlapore case they did disagree with their subordinate officer, and, as a consequence, they commuted a sentence of penal servitude for life to one of imprisonment for a short term of years. The rules of proportion will show that by a similar "commutation" the Maharaj might get off with the imprisonment he has already suffered. We need say nothing of the grave consequences of a decision like that. Englishmen and the educated natives would understand and acquiesce in a decision which they would know had been honestly arrived at. But how many of the ignorant Vaishnavs would believe that the Government were sincerely of opinion that Mr. Aston had misjudged the evidence? Fortunately, as we say, this particular difficulty does not seem to have arisen. But can any one deny that a complication such as that we have indicated might arise at any time? We submit that it is an urgent question, which ought to admit of little further delay, how questions of law and fact, such as those which are decided in the Judicial Courts of our Political Agents, are to be removed from the revision of the Executive Government, with whom it lies to commute the punishment awarded by its judges.

THE month of terror, extending from the middle of April to the middle of May, during which the Jews of Russia had to suffer in so many districts of the Empire cruel outrages at the hands of ferocious mobs, is only now becoming known in all its horrors. The absence of means of communication, the backwardness of the Russian Press, and, above all, the opposition of the Government to the publication of accurate intelligence, rendered the accounts of the anti-Jewish insurrection meagre and obscure. Enough was known, mainly by means of the narratives of miserable fugitives, to leave no doubt that horrible scenes had taken place. The necessity of punishing some of the most flagrant disturbers of the peace, and the increasing number of Jewish refugees who have found shelter in Austria, Germany, and elsewhere, have now resulted in a perfect inundation of evidence upon the doings in Russia during the bloody month. Like most outbreaks of popular savagery, the immediate occasions for the riots were, in almost all cases, of the most trifling sort. At Elisabethgrad, in the government of Kherson, a Russian peasant, drinking with some companions in the tavern of a Jew publican, broke a tumbler, and on being called upon to pay the damage, responded by striking the publican. A sharp struggle ensued, in which the Jew was gaining the upper hand, when the companions of the brawling peasant rushed into the street, then crowded with peasants in from the country for some local festivity, and crying out "they are killing our brethren," provoked an immediate tumult. Thousands of furious rustics precipitated themselves upon the Jews, and indescribable brutality became the order of the day. At Smelo, in the government of Kieff, a quarrel arose between a country-fellow and a Jew butcher over the price of an ox, in which, it is said, the Jew struck the first blow. A crowd of peasants took the side of the country-man, and the whole Jew quarter was attacked in consequence. At Kieff itself a great multitude, including many Jews, had assembled on the Vladimirskaia place to witness some open-air performances by a wandering troop of acrobats. A couple of street urchins, one a Christian and the other a Jew, were arrested for fighting by the police. The mob took the side of the "Christian" blackguard, and then suddenly fell upon all the Jews in the vicinity. But no matter how trifling the original cause which served as a pretext for disturbance and riot, the popular rising spread like magic, and in almost all cases appeared to be regularly directed by leaders who seemed to take command of the movement as if belonging to a preorganised insurrectionary general staff. In nearly every case the ordinary authorities were unable to suppress the riots, and the military alone could be relied upon to put down the outbreaks and protect the miserable objects of the popular fury.

The disturbances are now suppressed, perhaps because there are no more victims worth attacking, the property of the remaining Jews being destroyed, and large numbers of unfortunate Israelites having been driven altogether out of the country. In spite of the necessity in which the Government was placed to quell by the strong arm a movement which quickly showed that Socialistic aims as well as religious rancours were nourished by the leaders, it is to be noticed, however, that the attitude of many representatives of authority has not encouraged the Jews to expect much sympathetic protection. Many crown prosecutors even, in the midst of their indictment of the accused rioters, made a point of declaring that though nothing could excuse a breach of the public

TRANSVAAL AFFAIRS.

LONDON, JULY 16.

A debate took place in the House of Lords last night relating to Transvaal affairs. The Earl of Carnarvon attacked the policy of the Government in connection therewith. The Earl of Kimberly (Secretary of State for the Colonies) stated in reply that it was inexpedient at the present time for the Government to make a statement on several points in connection with the Transvaal. The British troops, however, he said, would remain there to enforce, if necessary, the decisions of the Royal Commission now sitting, and a Sub-Commission would be appointed to adjudicate the Loyalist claims for compensation. The natives, he also added, would not be overlooked.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR, accompanied by Mr. E. P. Robertson, Commissioner of the Central Division, the Hon'ble Colonel Merriman, Secretary to Government in the Public Works Department, and two members of His Excellency's personal staff, will leave Poona by ordinary train at 7 a.m. on Thursday, the 21st instant, for Sholapur, where His Excellency has promised to open the new waterworks. His Excellency will leave Sholapur at 8-30 p.m. on Friday, the 22nd ultimo, by ordinary train, arriving at 7.5 a.m. on Saturday, the 23rd, at Ahmednagar, where His Excellency will remain till Monday morning, the 25th, returning to Poona by road, vid Sirur, the following day.

WE refer our readers to our advertisement columns for the prospectus of the Western India Fine Arts Society and Exhibition. The Poona exhibition is increasing in importance every year, and has of late been a thorough financial success. This year there will be a flower show, in addition to the picture and art-work exhibition. Last year Madras carried off many of the prizes, and Bombay should do its best this time. There is no better education for an amateur than to find out how many are better than he himself is, and we wish success to the exhibition.

THE Lahore paper understands that Government has under consideration a scheme for giving employment to Anglo-Indians and Eurasians. The idea is to organize a couple of battalions from these classes, equipping and arming them like British infantry.

ONE rumour about the Lieutenant-Governorship of the N.-W. Provinces is to the effect that while the Secretary of State will not see his way to grant Sir George Couper a year's extension of office, His Honour will be permitted, if it suits him, to remain in office for some months beyond the expiration of his regular term. This rumour rests on the probability that Sir Alfred Lyall will be his successor and may prefer to remain at home beyond the period at which Sir George Couper's reign would naturally come to an end.

THE Bombay Guardian has "a letter from a gentleman who has had peculiarly good opportunities of knowing how far native officials avail themselves of their position to obtain what they have no right to, giving instances of such injustice that have come under his observation. One of the instances relates to a mamlatdar who, after the late famine, compelled the people under him to give Rs. 1,300 for the restoration of a decayed temple to Hanooman."

IT is stated by a contemporary that considerable reductions have been ordered to be made in the personnel of the Military Department, which has never resumed its normal state, although the exceptional work consequent upon the Afghan War has long since come to an end.

MR. SYUD MAHMOUD, the Judge of Rai Bareilly, will proceed shortly to Hyderabad, his services having been lent to the Government of the Nizam. He will, however, retain his position in the Oudh Commission, being "seconded" in his judicial appointment.

IT seems likely, says the Pioneer, that the Fisher case will end in smoke, the Local Government being advised that it is not worth while to prosecute the native newspapers in which the charges against Mr. Fisher were circulated. The policy of this decision requires some further explanation before it can be regarded as altogether intelligible.

AS a sign of the impending reduction of the Peshawur garrison, the arsenal in that station is to be abolished very shortly, and the arms and munitions of war removed to Rawal Pindi.

A CORRESPONDENT writes to the Indo-European Correspondence that "the main passenger station of the British Burma Railway is at Grant-road, Bombay, while the British Burma and Central India Railway, which conveys passengers to and from Colaba, has a very conveniently situated station at Church Gate, facing the sea west-ward."

THE trade route from Bhamo to China viâ Mattin, lately re-opened, is the same as that lately followed by the Revds. H. Soltau and J. W. Stevenson, of the China Inland Mission, on their journey from Bhamo to Hankow.

THE Lucknow paper reports the death, on Saturday last, at the age of ninety, of Nawab Malka Jehan Begum, widow of Muhammad Ali Shah, the first King of Oudh, and grandmother of the ex-King Wajid Ali Shah. She is said to have left nearly half a crore of money in Government securities.

THE Madras Times hears that Messrs. Rothschilds intend tendering for the £3,000,000 loan of the Government of India on the 25th instant, and rumour has it that they will offer a high rate.

THE Civil Service Memorial to the late Mr. Leonard Taylor, C. S., who was killed in the Naini Tal landslip last September, will take the form of a stained-glass window, to be placed in St. John's Church, Naini Tal.

MR. CLARMONT DANIELL, at present Judge of Moradabad, will act as Commissioner of the Allahabad Division during Mr. Simson's absence on privilege leave.

LIEUTENANT-GENERAL W. T. HUGHES, Commanding the Sirhind Division, inspected the Jutogh Garrison, consisting of the Mountain Battery and two companies of the 2nd Battalion 9th Regiment, on Wednesday.

MR. W. CHICHELE PLOWDEN, Census Commissioner, has now begun his tour of inspection in the Presidencies: the dates of arrival at the different stations being as follow:—Umballa, 14th; Meerut, 15th; Allahabad, 16th; Dinapore, 19th; Calcutta, 21st; and Madras, 26th. The return journey to Simla will probably be made vid Nagpur, Bombay, Baroda, and Kurrachee. The necessity for such a tour as regards the N.-W. P. arises, according to the Pioneer, from the local Census Officer having been too anxious to elaborate his own system. As a result of this he has been ordered down to the plains, there to remain until he has finished his work of abstracting and tabulating. The block is due to a mistaken method of dealing with the millions of papers which have to be examined, and the Census Commissioner hopes by personal inspection to rectify the error into which his subordinates have fallen.

THE report on the operations at the Government cinchona plantations and factory during the year 1880-81 shows most satisfactory results. The total number of trees planted out in the two divisions is now 4,677,720, of which 3,472,862 are in the Mungpoo, and 1,204,858 in the Sittong division. The produce of the plantations during the year was 377,524lbs. of dry bark, against 361,590lbs. in 1879-80, and 261,659lbs. in 1878-79. Of this, 348,560lbs. were taken from Mungpoo, and 28,965lbs. from Sittong. Of the yield of the Mungpoo plantations, 267,335lbs. were red bark, and 81,225lbs. were Calisaya; the whole of the bark from Sittong was red, the yield was greater than that of the previous year by 16,000lbs.

A CALCUTTA paper says it is not at present proposed to hold a Viceregal durbar at Agra in November. His Excellency the Viceroy, however, will visit Agra at the beginning of that month, when a camp of exercise is to come off. His Excellency then makes a tour to Gwalior and Rajputana, and probably the Central Provinces. The tour, as at present proposed, would last from six weeks to two months. This will probably necessitate the appointment of a President in Council, but nothing on the point has as yet been settled, nor has it been decided whether the Government offices will leave Simla for Calcutta when His Excellency starts on tour, or whether they will remain for a later period. It is likely, however, that they will leave at such time as to be settled in Calcutta by the time of His Excellency's arrival here, and not earlier.

THE Bombay correspondent of the Pioneer is of opinion that a camp of exercise should be formed this year. "With a new Chief and a new Adjutant-General, both of whom are regarded as thorough soldiers, energetic, and desirous to promote healthy reform, it does seem a pity, he says, that an early opportunity cannot be taken of massing and manœuvring a respectable body of men, by which also those in authority would learn much of the shortcomings and wants, as well as the excellences and the handiness, of the Bombay Army. One of the chief faults of this army is the want of familiarity of most of the officers with brigade drill. The number of small stations where single regiments are isolated is sufficient to account for this failing, and a camp of exercise would be a most valuable opportunity to officers who have not seen anything like a large division of troops in one place for years, if at all during their service."

AMONG other grievances of which the French Conservatives complain in the new educational régime is the decree which compels every boy and girl in the Parisian elementary schools to learn to sing the "Marseillaise." Exception is taken to this regulation by the Parlement on other than political grounds. To insist that Rouget de l'Isle's famous war-song, with its sanguinary though sublime refrain of exalted patriotism, shall be chanted by every little lisper in primary-schools is, it is contended, not a little ludicrous. Children is seven and eight cannot understand the noble and violent emotions natural to those who "knew how to die" in defence of their Fatherland, and the Parlement suggests that they should be taught some song more suitable to their years and understanding. The Pall Mall Gazette remarks that there is something in the objection; but, after all, is it not better to familiarize children with the great chant in which French patriotism found its most memorable utterance, than to teach them such inanities as those of "Dickery, Dickery Dock," "Jack and Jill," and the other ditties familiar to the British nursery?

NOTES FROM RAJKOTE.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

RAJKOTE, JULY 14.

CORRESPONDENTS do not often favour you with a newsletter from this quiet little station—for the best of reasons doubtless, that there is usually no news to tell. We have had very hot weather, and up to a week ago scarcely any sign of rain; and so bad were the prospects that many of the weatherwise prophesied a water famine as the least of the ills that might be in store for us. However, the rain has now arrived with a vengeance, and for the last five days and nights it has stormed, lightened, thundered, and poured with a fury and constancy the oldest inhabitant does not remember. Up to to-day 25 inches have been registered (that is, a full ordinary fall for Kattywar), and still it goes on. On Tuesday night the storm raged fiercely, and yesterday morning the work of destruction was everywhere visible. Roads and compounds blocked with fallen trees; houses blown down, or with their roofs partly blown off, the walls saturated, the floors flooded, and the occupants and their household gods damp, mildewy, and despondent, trying to get dry over charcoal fires in such sound corners of their habitations as they could find. In Rajkote city five hundred houses are reported to have fallen. A great portion of the 12th N. I. lines (built for economy of mud bricks) has melted away, and the remainder bids fair to follow suit if the rain continues. The camp bungalows, fearfully and wonderfully constructed of old, are now fearful indeed to both occupants and landlords, and wonderful to contemplate from a safe distance. Fortunately the road to Wudwan is safe, and we get our letters and papers. There is just one river unbridged in the whole length of sixty-six miles, and the tapal tonga was delayed in consequence for twelve hours on Tuesday. A European gentleman en route for Bhooj was, I hear, a passenger, and had to retire to a village on the opposite bank, without even a peg to console him from early morning till night.

Beside the monsoon, the only incident of interest is the great maharaj case, and the conviction and imprisonment of his holiness, which has stupefied his devotees here and elsewhere. Numbers of them congregate in the Political Agent's compound, asserting that they will stay there without food or drink till their maharaj is released. The rain, however, has yet proved too strong for their resolution. His holiness is reported to have refused food since his incarceration; but his divine nature is not, of course, in need of such ordinary sustenance.

The annual gymkhana has been organized under the excellent and indefatigable sportsman, Major Hancock, and with such a secretary, it will be all that it is possible to make it, when the weather permits.

NEW REMEDY FOR CHOLERA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—As cholera has been prevalent here this season, it may be useful to make known that among other remedies tried by me pills of black pepper and the root bark of Calotropis Gigantea, called Ankdá in Gujarati, have, after a fair trial, been found efficacious. They are prepared as follows:—

Fresh bark of the root of Calotropis Gigantea should be well pounded, so as to have no fibres, and mixed with an equal weight of finely powdered black pepper, and ginger juice in a sufficient quantity to make a pill mass, which should be divided into pills each of five grains.

Dose for an adult is 2 to 3 pills, which should be given every hour till purging and vomiting cease.

I bring this remedy to the notice of the public, especially as it is very cheap, efficacious, and of such a nature that it may be trusted in the hands of ignorant persons.

Stimulants may now and then be given with the pills. Sometimes one or two doses of chlorodyne, when given in the first stage of the disease, assist the action of the pills.

Abstinence from food while vomiting and purging continue, and some hours after they have ceased, has been found to prevent a relapse and hasten recovery.—Yours, &c.,

SHAMSHUDIN J. SULEMAN.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS IN INDIA.

WE are requested to publish the following letter, received by Mr. K. M. Shroff, Honorary Secretary to the Bombay Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, from Mr. John Colam, Secretary to the Royal Society in London, to whom it was addressed by a European gentleman, who recently returned from India:—

To the Honorary Secretary of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

SIR,—The recollection of the cruelties to animals practised by the natives of India induces me to bring the subject under the notice of your society, in the earnest wish that some means may be devised of lessening an evil which is a disgrace to our civilization. No one who has been in Calcutta does not need to be told of the tortures inflicted by them on the animals under their care.

The bullock, so much used there for purposes of draught, is one of the chief sufferers. They are goaded by the native drivers with a stick (which sometimes has a nail at the end of it). This they dig into the back and ribs of the patient animals, thus hurting them greatly; but a more effective torture, and much more universally practised, is that of twisting the animal's tail. In hundreds of animals the vertebræ of the tail is to be seen knotted and out of shape; and this means that every joint in the tail is dislocated. And more than this, it is no unusual sight to see bullocks whose tails barely reach half way down their hocks, some even shorter than that. How is this? It is because by continual twisting and dislocation the lower part has been broken off. I could cite many instances which have come under my own notice of the terrible cruelty practised on these poor animals; but, as I desire to be as brief as possible in my remarks, I will pass on to say a few words about the treatment of the horse. A great number of these are never groomed, or taken the least care of in the so-called stables; they are ill-fed, and not allowed to lie down. The bits used for riding horses are often dreadful, sometimes having a spike in the centre, which effectually, though most cruelly, keeps them under control. The eyes are injured by a thick leather fringe, worn to keep the flies off. Instead of this, let me suggest a simple piece of mosquito net; it would answer the purpose better, and not injure the eyes.

Other animals and birds suffer greatly. I could say a great deal more; but all I wish to do is to draw attention to the subject. The cruelty of the natives is simply fiendish. No doubt it arises partly from ignorance. The difficulty is to teach them kindness. This might be done

1stly.—By offering prizes for the best pairs of regularly worked bullocks.

2ndly.—By getting European merchants and brokers to take an interest in the matter so far as to order that none but good, strong, well-fed bullocks shall be employed in their work.

3rdly.—By extending greatly the system of reverse wards to native hospitals, and others for giving notice of cases of sores, cruelty, &c.

4thly.—Magistrates by rigorously levying fines in all reasonable cases brought before them would produce a wholesome effect.

5thly.—I think prizes should be offered for the best essay by a native on the subject of "The best means of promoting kindness to animals among the native drivers." I would make the prizes liberal and advertise prominently in Calcutta, so as to attract attention and get the subject talked about by all classes of natives.

I would make the 1st prize, Rs. 300; 2nd prize, Rs. 150; 3rd prize, Rs. 50. 200, say, would cover the prizes and pay for the advertising, and there should be no difficulty in raising such a sum. I enclose £5 to show my interest in the matter. The object is a good one and only wants to be properly taken up.—I am, Sir, your obedient servant.

T. G.

Moffal, 19th March, 1881.

P. S.—I think little leaflets, with pictures, should be drawn up, translated into the vernacular languages, and printed, giving anecdotes, &c., with the object of promoting kindness to animals; and if your society would kindly direct the attention of your Calcutta branch to this matter, they would be best able to judge of the most suitable means of giving effect to the suggestions I have ventured to make. I enclose another post-office order for £2-10 additional.

BOMBAY GYMKHANA.

THE following is the report of the committee of the Bombay Gymkhana, for the half year ending 30th June, 1881, to be submitted at the ensuing meeting to be held in the pavilion on Tuesday, 2nd August:—

The number of Resident Members on the 30th June, 1881, was 220, of whom 30 are New Members, enrolled during the half-year, and 5 are Golf-playing Members.

In January Mr. C. Young resigned the Secretaryship, as he was leaving Bombay. This was a great loss to the Gymkhana, and the Committee are glad to have this opportunity of expressing their appreciation of the great services rendered by Mr. Young in raising and developing the Gymkhana.

At the half-yearly meeting on 7th February the Committee for the year were elected by ballot with the following result:—Honourable L. H. Bayley, President, H. A. Acworth, Esq., C.S., Treasurer and Joint Secretary, R. S. Campbell, Esq., Joint Secretary, M. R. Wyer, Esq., Cricket Secretary, C. C. Gray, Esq., Boating Secretary, N. S. Symons, Esq., Polo Secretary, A. Arthur, Esq., Golf Secretary. A. B. Mein, Esq., Gun Secretary, W. M. Tennent, Esq., Football Secretary, C. Agnew Turner, Esq., R. L. Stewart, Esq., R. L. W. Forrest, Esq., Captain Cooke-Collis, Additional Members.

The Annual Athletic Sports were held on the 4th and 5th March, and were very successful. Challenge Cups were presented by the Merchants and by the Lawyers to replace those won by Mr. Jefferson three years in succession: and the 'Young' Cup was added to the list of Challenge Cups. There was very good competition for several of the events, but it would be more satisfactory if there were representatives of out-stations at these shorts. It is hoped that next year some Mofussil athletes will come and compete. The 'Young' Cup was won by Mr. Arthur, who also won the Civillans' Cup and the Merchants' Cup.

The 'Marryat' Lawn Tennis Cup was competed for at the time of the athletic sports, and was won by Mr. Frere. There was a good list of entries, and much interest was taken in the contest. Lawn Tennis has become one of the most popular branches of the Gymkhana, and the improvements which are now being made in the ground should add to its success.

Sky Races were held on the Kennedy Sea Face on the 19th and 21st March in conjunction with the Bombay Hunt.

Polo, which was discontinued during the hot weather, has been resumed with much spirit; and it is hoped that some good matches will be got up during the rains.

There has been no Cricket during the past half-year, but practice has now been begun; and games will now be played when the weather permits. It is hoped that the season will be a good one, though many of the best of last year's players are now absent from Bombay.

A new Raft, kindly designed by Mr. Potts, of the B. I. S. N. Co., was completed in April, and proved a great boon to Rowing members. The usual Scratch Races took place at the beginning of May, and afforded some capital sport. An expenditure of Rs. 2,500, has been sanctioned, which, it is estimated, will be sufficient to procure Boats that are still wanted, and to add to and improve the Raft.

The St. Andrew's Golf Medal was played for on the 1st and 2nd February, and was won by Mr. Burn. A week later Mr. Arthur, for the second time won the Wimbledon Challenge Cup, which was given by the London Scottish Golf Club. On the mornings of the days of the Athletic Sports, Mr. Melvin carried off the Gymkhana Challenge Cup from Mr. Burn, the former holder. Towards the end of April Mr. Arthur won the St. George's Medal. During the half-year Foursome Matches were introduced with great success. The Blackheath Challenge Medal, which fell to be finally competed for by the winners of former years, has been presented by them to the Gymkhana, and will continue to be played for twice a year as hitherto. An attemp will be made to resuscitate the Poona Match during the rains.

Football, which flourished before the Gymkhana supported and developed other games, has now, perhaps wisely, been allowed to lapse, and there is little or no chance of its being revived.

The supervision of the construction of the Racquet Court has been entrusted to a Sub-Committee composed of Mr. H. A. Richardson, Mr. L. Rivett-Carnac, Mr. H. Pilkington, R. E., and Mr. H. A. Acworth, C.S., Hon. Sec. The foundations have been laid at a cost of Rs. 1,631-6-3 and a further sum of Rs. 6,175 is due to Government on account of the site. It was found necessary, after mature consideration, to suspend the continuance of the work during the rains; but it will be resumed as soon as the weather permits. The Court will, it is hoped, be opened by the month of February. As the price to be paid for the site has exceeded to original estimate, and it is possible that the work remaining to be done may cost more than was at first anticipated, the General Meeting will be asked to sanction provisionally a further sum of Rs. 2,500 in addition to Rs. 30,000 already sanctioned, to be raised by loan or debenture, as may seem advisable. The full amount (Rs. 30,000) of Racquet Court Debentures already issued, has been subscribed, and 25 per cent. have been paid up.

The financial condition of the Gymkhana is satisfactory. Since the date of the last General Meeting 10 members have resigned, and 30 new members have joined. The Statement of Assets and Liabilities and the Balance-Sheet for the half-year are annexed."

THE VAISHNAVS AND THEIR IMPRISONED MAHARAJ.

A MEETING of Hindoos [illegible] held last week at "Madhav Baug," on the [illegible]wasjee Patel Tank, Khetwady, at which from [illegible]r to five thousand persons are said to have [illegible]resent, to consider what steps should be tak[illegible] in the matter of the imprisoned Maharaj. It was explained to the meeting that the Vaishnavs should not petulantly close all their business, for their object might be misconstrued; and that they should adopt none but constitutional means to gain their objects. A memorial was then set on foot with a view to a deputation of Hindoos waiting upon His Excellency the Governor on the 13th instant. But the intention was afterwards abandoned, on the suggestion being made that His Excellency the Governor might be unwilling to receive a deputation composed only of strangers. It was then resolved, we hear, that the deputation should request the Hon'ble Mr. Graham to accompany them to Gunesh Khind. A long petition has been prepared, to which several thousand signatures have been already taken.

ANOTHER (a private) meeting, convened by Messrs. Nanabhoy Byramjee Jeejeebhoy and Sorabjee Sharpurjee Bengalee, was held at "Byramjee Hall" on Thursday last. Representatives of the Press were not admitted to the meeting; but it is understood that, on the motion of the Hon'ble James Graham, who presided, a committee was appointed to draw up a petition praying Government to commute the sentence passed upon the Maharaj; the committee being composed as follows:—Messrs. Sorabjee Shapurjee Bengali, Nanabhoy Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, Thomas Blaney, Messrs. Sorabjee Framjee and Roberts (Owen and Okell). A deputation was also appointed to wait with the petition upon Sir James Fergusson at Gunesh Khind.

THE Indian Spectator says:—"We cordially detest such movements as the one set on foot by Mr. Sorabji Bengali and another for securing a vote of "public sympathy"—we suppose they will call it so —to the Vaishnav Maharaj in tribulation. We could paint as good a picture of benevolence as the most poetic philanthropist can; but benevolence over-done is maudlin drivelling sentiment, than which no greater moral defect could be conceived. Mr. Bengali and his friends are performing this piece of Vaishnav-worship, perhaps, because the good-natured Mr. Graham does it. And Mr. Graham does it because the zealous Vaishnav Shet Vurjiwandas and his lackeys in the piece-goods line do it. But what is devout in Mr. Vurjiwandas and amiable in Mr. Graham becomes criminal in Mr. Bengali's case. We need not say why. Mr. Bengali may repudiate sympathy with the Maharaj, but he will find very few to believe him. Does he mean to question the justice of the Court's decision, or of the Government's attitude in the matter? And does he not know, one with his experience and knowledge of human nature, that the persistent Vaishnavas will misunderstand and make wrong use of what Mr. Bengali may mean as a mere personal expression of sympathy? We read that the Maharaja's Defence Meeting, so to call it, held at Byramjee Hall on Thursday, was attended by four Europeans, Messrs. Graham, Roberts, Blaney, and Thorburn, half a dozen Parsis, two Mussulmans, and the Vaishnavas, of course, without number. He must be an impudent man who makes flies such a hole-and-corner affair into a "public meeting." Messrs. Graham and Blaney are excellent men, but they know nothing of the cruel harm they are doing to native society. Messrs Roberts and Thorburn, too, are likely enough men; but do they know what they are about? We have very little to say to the other Parsis and Mussulmans, and certainly nothing to the infatuated Banias. But we hold Mr. Bengali blameworthy for this most demoralizing movement to which he has lent himself. Why will he not explain whether he is working as a public man, or as Mr. Vurjiwandas's friend and brother? It is grievous to see this once hard-headed and earnest man succumbing to mere personal considerations, and it is much more grievous to see four honest Europeans—the Vaishnavized victims—placed in such a false position. And the interests of law and justice, in the name of public morality of which this cult of Vaishnavism is the avowed destroyer, we denounce the movement, and warn our just Christian rulers from mistaking it for an exponent of public sentiment. Such a wound as the Vaishnav Maharaj has suffered from a little undue severity than that the course of justice was interrupted by the action of weak-minded or interested busy-bodies. And now that his friends have succeeded in sending to the Governor a decently made deputation, we think we are fairly justified in saying that neither by his antecedents nor by his profession, nor yet by his connection with this particular crime, is Vrijeshai Maharaj entitled to the merciful consideration of Government. We are told that he bore an indifferent character at Jamnagar, and His Highness the Jam Sahib might, perhaps, bear us out when we repeat the rumour that this is not his first detected crime. Is a condemned felon to go scot-free because he commands opportunities of ruining public morals, or because a handful of wealthy Philistines honour him with 'public sympathy?'

THE Vaishnavs of Bombay, says the Satya Mitra, consider themselves much obliged to Mr. Nanabhoy Byramjee Jeejeebhoy for his zeal and exertions in their behalf. He called an influential meeting at "Byramjee Hall" and had a petition prepared without loss of time, and communicated by telegram with Mr. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, C. S. I., his father, who is at Poona, about the great excitement that prevailed among the Vaishnavs of Bombay. The result was that the matter was, through Mr. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, duly brought to the notice of Sir James Fergusson, who thereupon sent a telegram to the Political Agent of Kattiawar, requesting him to see that no harshness was used towards the imprisoned Maharaj, who was to be allowed the services of a Brahmin cook and the use of two separate rooms in the jail. A telegram, communicating the above information, was sent by Mr. Byramjee on Friday evening to his son at Bombay, and was sent on by him for the information of the leading Vaishnavs, who have been, so far, consoled at the attention shown by Sir James Fergusson towards their Maharaj. The sacred "kunthee" (necklace) and "jane" (thread) which had been taken away from the Maharaj, according to jail rules, have, it is alleged, been restored to him.

from the usual course; but adds that "in this case, the rule would be honored in the breach." "Mr. Runga Charlu is, by birth, by education, and by official experience, connected with the Madras Presidency; and his selection, without interfering with the discharge of his special duties as the responsible adviser of the Maharajah of Mysore, would be a suitable recognition of his distinguished career, a compliment to the State which he presides, and a means of bringing Mysore into closer alliance and sympathy with the neighbouring Presidency. The only valid objection which could be urged against the appointment is that Mr. Runga Charlu would not be strictly and literally a representative of the province administered by the Madras Government; but it would be idle to pretend that the principle of direct and actual representation has been so closely adhered to in the past as to exclude the Dewan of a friendly State." There can be no doubt that Mr. Runga Charlu would do justice to the appointment; but it would be impolitic and inadvisable, to say the least, that one who is engaged in making laws and regulations for a feudatory State should be appointed to assist in making laws and regulations for the Presidency in which he has no domicile, and with which he has no other present connection than that of being a Madrassee by birth.—Madras Mail.

GOLF IN MADRAS.—The Handicap prize, which was competed for on the 13th instant, was won by Mr. W. Walker with a score of 75 for the 2 rounds. Shortly after the start there was a heavy downpour of rain which necessitated every ball being well lifted from the ground; and during the second round a strong wind blew from the S. E. which made the first two holes difficult to negotiate in less than 12 strokes. The browns were in excellent condition, and some very long puts were made in consequence. The state of the weather was much in favour of the scratch players, as will be seen by the following scores:—

Mr. J. L. Walker	... ...	97—16 =81
Mr. C. Sowden	... ...	95—13 =82

Mr. D. Sinclair, and Mr. C. M. Smith, competed one round, and then retired from the competition. The Club are very much indebted to the kindness of Mr. C. M. Smith for surveying the 'Island' Links. The following are the distances between each hole:—
